1. On 22 June 1952, the Neue Infanterie Kaserne in Neustrelitz (N 54/U 54), Pranalliner Chaussee, was occupied to capacity by about 3,000 to 4,000 troops, most of whom wore red-bordered black epaulets with tank insignia. During the period from 11 to 18 June, T-34 tanks [REDACTED] and JS tanks [REDACTED] were seen leaving the installation for the adjacent training area on Zierkersee. On 16 and 18 June, T-34 tanks [REDACTED] drove south of the village of Zierke and into Zierkersee. They were covered with water as far as the lower edge of the turret when crossing the lake. They reached the shore 200 to 300 meters west of Zierke. During the period from 22 to 26 June, nine T-34 tanks, [REDACTED] were observed in the billeting area. An AA emplacement with several 37-mm AA guns was 250 meters northeast of the Neue Infanterie Kaserne. [REDACTED] (1)

2. On 10 June, trucks [REDACTED] each towing a 120-mm mortar, left the Alte Grenadier Kaserne on Strelitzer Strasse.
3. On 7 June, the restricted Gerhart Hauptmann Strasse was occupied by about 200 troops. Three 122-mm field howitzers which had been brought by truck [REDACTED] from the restricted area to the adjacent training grounds were engaged in firing practice. (1)
4. At the end of May, the former SA sport camp along the Zinnen-Gross-Trebbow road south-southwest of the town and south of the so-called "Schinder Tannen" was reoccupied by an engineer unit of about 300 men from the restricted Tiergarten area and a supply unit which had hitherto been stationed near the harbor of Zierkersee. Motor vehicles observed in traffic to the southern section of the camp which housed the engineer unit [REDACTED] and vehicles seen in traffic to the northern section which housed the supply unit [REDACTED] (3)
5. On 15 June, 35 new, [REDACTED] spray-painted trucks were loaded at the Neustrelitz freight station. The loading detail of soldiers with red-bordered black

10. During the period from 8 to 16 June 1952, there was much training activity in the Neue Infanterie Kaserne on Penzliner Chaussee. In detail, the following observations were made:

8 June. T-34 tank [] and 2 JS-122 guns were seen. Trucks [] left the installation. 25X1

10 June. About 40 soldiers wearing red-bordered black epaulets and carrying submachine guns and practice targets marched out toward Zierke.

12 June. A column of T-34 tank No 200, a [] T-34 tank and trucks 25X1

[] each carrying about 15 soldiers with red-bordered black epaulets and field equipment left the installation.

13 June. Four T-34 tanks stood in the barracks yard. Two JS-3 tanks and trucks

[] each carrying about 20 soldiers with red-bordered black epaulets and field equipment, left the installation toward Zierke. The column was followed by a unit of 100 soldiers wearing red-bordered black epaulets and carrying submachine guns, and carbines. Motor vehicles observed at the installation []

Neustrelitz-Mirow railroad line. Two platforms had already been completed. Two heavy mortars were mounted on one of them. Fifteen officers and 70 men with red-bordered black epaulets were engaged in firing practice. Six other heavy mortars covered with canvas stood near a shed. (7)

12. During the period from 12 to 16 June, the following observations were made in the training area northwest of Neustrelitz, west of Kratzburg:

12 June, 10 a.m. 6 prime movers with 100-mm AT guns and 2 trucks each carrying about 20 soldiers with red-bordered black epaulets moved toward Speck from the direction of Poutscher Forest. At 10:40 a.m. until 12:30 p.m. on the same day, heavy AT gun fire was heard from the direction of Speck. Machine gun and rifle fire was heard from the same direction between 1:00 and 2:30 p.m.

13 June, 1 to 3 p.m. Artillery and rifle fire was heard from the entire area of Speck-Gransin. Trucks each towing a 37-mm AT gun and carrying about 10 men with red-bordered black epaulets and 4 trucks, each mounting about 20 soldiers with red-bordered black epaulets drove from the direction of Dannebeck toward Bieske at 3:40 p.m. (8)

Comments.

- (1) Although it appears that elements of the 9th Gds Tank Div in the three installations were rotated for practices in the Neustrelitz area, it is believed that no changes occurred in the occupation since mid-May 1952.
- (2) the 47th Gds Tank Regt of the 9th Gds Tank Div in Neustrelitz until 28 April 1952. possibly belongs to a hospital in the Neustrelitz-Puerstenberg/Oder area.
- (3) According to a report of the middle of May 1952, the engineer unit of the Second Gds Recz Army was to move from the restricted Tiergarten area to the sport camp about 6 km south-southwest of Neustrelitz. The supply unit mentioned in paragraphs 4 and 8 as being stationed near the harbor on Zierkersee is reported for the first time. There is no plausible reason why such a unit should have moved to the training camp.
- (4) As, in addition to the hitherto unidentified restricted Schlosskoppel area, also mentioned the restricted Schlossgarten area known from previous reports, it appears referred to two billeting areas. The present report indicates that the restricted Schlosskoppel area may be occupied by the unidentified Trans In of the 9th Gds Tank Div. However, this conclusion is contradicted by the information that a supply unit, which can only be the above mentioned motor transport battalion, is stationed in the area.
- (5)
- (6) The arrival on 28 May 1952 of elements of the 121st (?) AAA Regt of the 9th Gds Tank Div from Altengraben was previously reported. The quartering of the regiment in the restricted Schlossgarten area is known. it belongs to a military censorship office.
- (7) already reported in mid-April 1952, that field exercises with mortars had been conducted in this area. exercises had probably been held by units of the 234th Mort Regt of the 9th Gds Tank Div. however, since elements of this regiment were probably still in the training area south of Neubrandenburg at the end of May, the identity of the unit concerned is still to be determined.
